ssissippi Railroad, on Sunday night: Mississippi Railroad, on Sunday night:

A few days ago the bridge over Logan Creek. between Cochran and Dillsborough, Indiana, and about thirty miles below this city, was torn down preparatory to the erection of a new one, of the McCullum pattern, in its stead—trains in the mean time passing over what was believed to be a very substantial piece of trestle work, although built only for temporary use.

A freight train from St. Louis approached the bridge about two o'clock vesterday morning. The bridge about two o'clock yesterday morning. The stream was considerably swollen at the time, and dashed down the narrow channel at a furious rate, Before crossing the train halted, and the watchman, to see that nothing was wrong, although another freight train and also an express train hald passed over but a few horse train another freight train and also an express train had passed over but a few hours previous, walked ahead and examined everything as well as he could by the feeble light of his lantern, and then signalled the engineer to move on. No sooner had he reached the centre of the bridge than the structure swayed to the side and fell, taking with it the engine and three cars, which were of course crushed to fragments. The first car was loaded with stone, the second with hogs, and the third with flour. The engineer, Cyrus Perry, and the fireman, — Izard, were both instantly killed. No other lives were lost. A. L. SHOTWELL & SON, Wall street Messes Editors: Can you or anybody else in the wide world tell why the gates on the south side of the Court House are chained up? If they were made to pass through, why are they not opened? If they were not made for that purpose, why were they made? The people have suffered this intolerable inconvenience for a year or more, and I, for one, should like to know how much longer it is to be so. When one wishes to go from the south to the north entrance of the Court yard, and vice versa, he is compelled to walk half way round the whole square. Some of the gates on the north side also remain chained up. Absurd and shameful.

The "Cotton Question" in Cuba — The cultivation of cotton has begun to occupy considerably the attention of land owners throughout the Island of Cuba. It appears from the Havana papers that old worn-out coffee fields, which have been used as mere cattle enclosures, are sought after by speculators for the purpose of converting them into cotton plantations, and the prices of these lands have suddenly risen to a very high figure. There are already three cotton plantations in the immediate neighborhood of Havana, and the mania for the enterprise appears to be quite considerable in that city.

GEO. D. PRENTICE. Editors. OLIVER LUCAS, Local Editor and Reporter

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1861.

W. N. HALDEMAN.—This man, proprieto of the late Louisville Courier, has published in the Nashville Union a long card, to which Dr. T. S. Bell makes an utterly destructive reply in our paper of to-day. Mr. Haldeman's card is a thing most disgraceful to him in all respects. It is ungrateful, hypocritical, and scandalously false. It involves false imputations upon men who have recently labored day and night to serve him.

Mr. Haldeman holds out in his card the promise of renewing the publication of the Courier when his friends the Confederate troops shall have conquered Louisville and Kentucky and established the Confederate Government over us. There is certainly good reason to think that he will not come back to raise the Courier from the dead or to do anything else here until the U.S. Government shall cease to have any operation among us. Not only have all the printing materials of his late paper been seized by his creditors, but it is found, that he, as late Surveyor of the Customs in Louisville, confiscated at least ten or twelve thousand dollars of the public money to his own use, and, inasmuch as the punishment of this crime is, under the sub-treasury law of the United States, imprisonment for a shall exist here.

It certainly gives us no pleasure to expose Mr. Haldeman's misconduct. We bear him no personal ill-will. When we learned that he proposed to revive the dead Courier, making it a mere newspaper, we, without consultation with any one, immediately wrote an earnest letter to Gen. Anderson, urging him to give his consent to the proposition. We did this from a sense of duty, and without the slightest thought or expectation, that, if our well-meant interference should be successful, Mr. H. would thank us for it. We knew that he would not.

All further proceedings in Kentucky must be revolutionary, violent, and convulsive. There is no legal path by which it is possible now to extricate her from her constitutional association with the North.—Richmond (Va) Dispatch.

The view thus expressed by the Richmond Editor is the view upon which the authorities of the Southern Confederacy are resolved to act. It is the view upon which they are already acting. Inasmuch as Kentucky has voted three several times, each time by an overwhelming majority, not to go out of the Union, the Confederate authorities now proclaim that there is "no legal path" by which it is possible to extricate her from her political position, and that all the means used must and shall therefore be "revolutionary, violent, and convulsive. They don't intend that the mass of the people of Kentucky shall have the privilege of determining by vote the association of this State, but that revolution, violence, and convulsion shall supplant the elective franchise. Their resolve is to coerce Kentucky, to compel her into the Southern Confederacy, whether she is willing or unwilling. If any more voting at all is to be done, their plan is to have it done when their armies shall occupy all the important points in our State, so that every vote cast shall be cast according to the demands of the Confederate Military power. They may design to let us vote with the understanding that the penalty of a vote adverse to them shall be

No statement that the streets of Bowling Green were flowing with blood or even sprinkled with blood has at any time appeared in the Louisville Journal.

WALTER N. HALDEMAN'S CARD IN THE NASHVILLE UNION.

I have read with more than ordinary regret a card over the signature of Mr. Haldeman in the Nashville Union of October 2d. It was my evil fortune to be pressed by Mr. Haldeman's involvementary itse sixted a card lead wore of the importunities into a great deal more of the service connected with this business than I desired or intended, and I feel compelled to notice Mr. Haldeman's letter. How I became connected with it at the beginning, will be seen om the following note of Messrs. Noble Butler and Wm. H. Walker: Just after we had entered the car at the Pewee

Just after we had entered the car at the Pewee Valley Station, on the morning of Thursday, the 19.h of September, Mr. W. N. Haldeman informed us that the publication of the Courier had been suppressed. In the course of conversation on the ruject, he stated that he wished to get General Anderson's permission to publish the Courier as a mere newspaper, under the supervision of some person or persons to be appointed by General A. Feeling great regard for Mr. H. as a neighbor, we offered to call on General A. and present his proposition in more definite terms, when he repeated it as expressed above, explaining it by saying that he wished merely to publish the current news, abstaining entirely from political discussions, and that if the publication of any particular item of news should be regarded as injurious to the Government, it might be suppressed by the person or persons under whose supervision the paper might be placed. After having made arrangements with us to telegraph to him at O'Bannon's Station the result of our interview with General Anderson objected to the first sentence as expressing a serf-dom which he had not required of Mr. Haldeman, and which he did not desire him to express. That first sentence ran in this style: "Having received permission from the Government authorities of the United States to resume the publication of the Courier, I make the following statement." When General Anderson objected to this, and desired a sentence more favorable to Mr. Haldeman, I proposed paper might be placed. After having made arrangements with us to telegraph to him at O'Bannon's Station the result of our interview with Gen. Anderson, he left the car at Hobbs's Station for the purpose of requesting Mr. E. D. Hobbs to exert himself in his favor.

On arriving in Louisville we called on Dr. Bell, and induced him to go with us to Gen. Anderson's room, where Mr. Haldeman's proposition was prosented to Gen. A. and accepted. At the door of Gen. Anderson's room we separated, Mr. Walker to send the despatch to Mr. Haldeman, and Dr. Bell and Mr. Butler to see the officers and direct the suspension of the writ of arrest. Mr. Butler also wrote a note to Mr. Haldeman, which Dr. Bell sent to him. We were satisfied at that time that Mr. Haldeman wished to return to the city.

NOBLE BUTLER, W. H. WALKER.

The reader must bear in mind that at this

The reader must bear in mind that at this time Mr. Haldeman was threatened with arrest and could and would have been arrested, but for this interference. This is an important point in the series of facts about to be presented. I could not and would not have had anything whatever to do with it if I had suppos term of years in the penitentiary, he will unquestionably give Louisville a wide berth so long as the authority of the United States that neither Mr. Walker nor Mr. Butler would have done anything in the matter, had they suspected anything of the kind. He manifested an importunate zeal to get to the city, and all engaged in this service supposed that he was sincere. After Mr. Walker's telegraphic despatch to him, and Mr. Butler's letter re specting General Anderson's conditions, I pre sumed I was done with the affair. But be-tween 9 and 10 o'clock that night I found two gentlemen at my office with a letter from Mr. Haldeman, in which he pleaded that I should see Gen. Anderson and learn his condition for the resumption of the publication of the Courier, although he had already received the conditions. I here subjoin this letter and ask the reader's especial attention to it:

OLDHAM COUNTY KY., Sept. 19, 1861. OLDHAM COUNTY KY., Sept. 19, 1801.

Dr. T. S. Bell—My Dear Sir: Our friend, Mr. Butler, advised me of the result of your interview with Gen. Anderson. Mr. O'Bannon has since informed me of the purport of a conversation Judge Bullitt and others had with Gen. A. on the subject. I wish to make a brief statement and proposition, and would esteem it as a favor if you would submit them to Gen. Anderson.

censure for having listened to any proposition for resuming the publication of the Courier. I literally obeyed Mr. Haldeman's written instructions in the entire management, except in the single change made in the first sentence of his card, and that change was made for the benefit of no one but himself. All of Mr. Haldeman's messages to me and devoted myself assiduously and utremittingly. The good will of the office I regard as of more devoted myself assiduously and unremittingly.

The good will of the office I regard as of more value than the machinery and material in it, and a suspension for any length of time would entirely destroy the value of that good will. I would be glad to be permitted to continue the publication of the paper, and would pledge myself during the permission to publish no political articles whatever, to confine the paper entirely and exclusively to the publication of local and general news and miscellany, and am perfectly willing to submit such news, &c., before publication to such a supervision and censorship as Gen. Anderson might suggest or require. Of course I would also pledge myself to permit the publication of inthing that would be in any way detrimental to make the continuent to the continuent to the provision and censorship as Gen. ANDERSON MIGHT SUGGEST OR REQUIRE." What becomes then of Mr. Haldeman's charge Even the card did not reach that extent of humiliation, that degradation of surveillance.
Yet, this was Mr. Haldeman's own proposition.

And he added voluntarily, (Of course I would be added voluntarily, (Of course I would be added to And he added voluntarily: "Of course I would gaged in traveling night and day for him), and son to demand! "CAMP CRITTENDEN!"

I AM authorized to raise a Regiment of Instity to be mustered into the service of the fantry to be mustered into the service of the Cunted States, and have ree 'ived from General Anderson the following written anthority to establish a camp of rendezvous and instruction, viz.:

HEADQUARTEES DEP'T OF THE CUMBERLAND,\(^1\)
Col. John M. HARLAN: You are auth-rized to establish near Lebanon, Ky., at such point as you may designate, a camp for rendezvous and instruction, where you may receive such companies as may be offered for the service of the United States, and provide whatever may be necessary for their comfort and sustenance.

ROB'RT ANDERSON,
Brig. Gen. U. S. A. Commanding.
In compliance with the above authority, I have established a camp near Lebanon. Lompanies will be received from any part of the State, and as soon as they reach Lebanon will be furnished with everything necestary to make them comfortable.

The camp will be known as "Camp Crittenden," in honor of Kentucky's most distinguished statesman.

The cost of transportation to the place of rendezvous, as well as the cost of subsisting the troops previous to their being mustered into the service, will be paid by the Government.

As soon as companies reach the Camp they will be supplied with uniforms and the best guns to be had in the country.

All who enlist will be entitled at the close of the war ry remarks to accompany the card, and that a great outrage was committed in omitting them. All who enlist will be entitled at the close of the wa to $100 bounty and 160 acres of land, and those wh may be wounded will receive a pension during life.

I am happy to be able to announce that Judge W. H. Hays, of Springfield, will be the Lieut. Colonel of the first regiment which may be organized at "Camp Crit tenden." As the Camp is near the railroad leading from Louisville, and is convenient to a large number of counties whose people are eminently loyal, it is desired and expected to make "Camp Crittenden" a If the reader will examine the letter of the oth, he will be able to make the proper disount for Mr. Haldeman's statement, that his ard was published in the Journal without his authority. We, however, commend the extract to everyody's own reflection:

We propose to discuss, briefly, what the late Congress has done, and what it has failed to do. In the first place, Congress has voted an army of near a half million of men, and a fabulous amount of money to support them. Our on'y objection to this legislation is that it is in imitation of the hullving on the other side of the Potomac. iver and at this place for the last four days in of the bullying on the other side of the Potomac. An attack being anticipated at Cape Girardeau two more regiments were ordered there We get to near a hailf million; and when we come to money, they are not a circumstance to u. This is a sounding patriotism not in the very best taste. We should have legislated without regard to the pretentious bullying of Mr. Lincoln's Congress, and have simply voted in the field the force we thought adequate to the military exigencies of the Confederate States. We have no idea that the half million of men the Congress has authorized will ever be raised, or the means for their support ever be required. We find it difficult to put an army of eighty thousand men together in Virginia, and eighty thousand men are enough, and we fear more than enough, for any military use we can put them to. LETTER FROM NEW MEXICO.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

Sept. 9, 1861.

Since my last there has been a literal dearth of news in this section of country. Nothing has happened in fact to vary the monotory of the samp save the arrival of the "troops" who were so ignominiously surrendered at San Augustine Springs. Two or three incidents connected with the surrender are worthy of record. It appears that none of the troops anticipated a surrender until they were ordered to stack arms, when Sorgeant Oberle, the Drum Major of the Sewall and wall and the "colors" before the surrender was completed. The band also broke all their instruments, and many of the men completely ruined all their arms sooner than surrender them to an enemy. Private Barlow, of I Company, 7th Infantry, was just returning from Craig, and had got as a Ke.—he was approached by an old man, who said: "Mr. Russell, we are glad to see you out here; back as Los Cruzes, when, hearing of the surrender, the turned his horse and made good his escape to Craig, indign a distance of 110 miles without eating or drinking, and which utquitting his said.

The Colonel Commanding the Department has learned with great gratification that certain reports and statements with regard to the troops, included in the surrender of San Augustine Springs, are unfounded and slanderous, that not-withstanding the difficulties in which they were involved, and the seductiveness with which they were assailed, they have proved themselves, with a few exceptions, loyal and faithful soldiers of the Union. We sympathize with them in their misfortune, and trust that they will bear it with patience, and look forward with hope to the period when it will be removed, and San Augustine be remembered only as a watchword and an incentive to renewed exertions for the honor of their country and its flag.

ANOTHER FIENDISH ATTEMPT TO DESTROY LIFE.—On Thursday night, about 8 o'clock, the train of cars from this city over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, when near Brady's Mills, about seven miles this side of Cumberland, was thrown from the track. Some fiends had taken up two rails with the design of destroying the whole train and everybody on board. Fortunately the train and everybody on board. Fortunately the train was running very slowly, as it always does through that suspicious section of country, and there was nobody hurt. The engine and tender were badly broken up, but the passenger car was not damaged. This occurred but a short distance from the place where an attempt was recently made to stop the train by placing cross-ties upon the track. IMPORTANT FROM THE CHEROKEE NATION—Discifection of John Ross.—From Rev. Wm. S. Robinson, Missionary teacher of the Old School Presbyterian Church, who reached St. Louis last Saturday from the Cherokee Nation, we learn some unpleasant intelligence concerning the action of the Chief and Council of that nation.

The battle of Wilson's Creek had had the unhappiest effect. The secession party—against which Chief John Ross had struggled so hard, and, apparently, with so much success—was the details, but can say generally that I am more than satisfied with the condition of affairs in this locality.

On Wednesday, having a letter of introduction from a mutual friend, I called to see Gen. U. S. Grant, commanding this district. I found him a modest, unassuming man, affable, accessible, and surrounded with none of the pomp and circumstance of war, his personal appearance indicating to the casual observer little of the qualities which are so clearly manifested in his efficient administration of the affairs of his district. But a short acquaintance soon convinced me that he is eminently the right man in the right place.

He is a thorough soldier, despatches business with the South.

Overborne by this pressure, John Ross, on the 20th of August, called the Council together at Talequah, and sent in a message recommending a severance of their connection with the Government of the United States, and an alliance with the Southern Confederacy. The Council, by a vote, approved of these recommendations, and eaxt day appointed commissioners to make a treaty of alliance with the Southern Confederacy. The Council, by a vote, approved of these recommendations, and eaxt day appointed commissioners to make a treaty of alliance with the Southern Confederacy. The proposition, together with the violent and overbearing conduct of the secession party, proved too much for the wavering Ross and the Council; and, as they were threatened by invasion from Arkansas and Texas, and without the hope of succor from the Federal Government, they agreed o secede from the United States and unite with

At four o'clock of the day preceding the taking the four o'clock of the day preceding the taking the character of the wite of Chief Rose, however, had to the last, and refused to yield up her adherence to the Union. After the proceedings of the Council, a Confederate flag was prepared to be hoisted over the Council House in Talequah; but Mrs. Ross declared that she would not allow it, and threatened, that, if it were raised, she would make her son, six years old, tear it down. Owing to her spirited resistance, the flag was not raised.

The violence of the secession party in the Nation, aroused by the result of the battle of Wilson's Creek, grew more furious after the disloyal action of the Council, and Mr. Robinson, who had been a teacher in the Missouri School at Tallehassee, in the Creek Nation, for twelve years, was compelled to flee with his family, upon twenty-fore hours' notice.

To concluste the in-dians, the secessionists exhibited, in Talequah, a Confederate soldier who had scalped a Federal soldier in the battle of Wilson's Creek, and re-sorted to other kindred devices to gain the good will of the Nation. A YOUTHFUL ADVENTURER.—Last evening a little boy named Charles Dry, only thirteen years old, arrived in this city from Beverly, en route to Indianapolis. Charles went out with the Seventeenth Indiana Regiment in charge of Captain Reed, and has been the hero of several adventures in Western Virginia. He went out from Gen Rewnold's came as a say some six flag or country.

The following order, issued by the commading officer of this Department, does credit to the head and heart of the gallant soldier who penned it:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT N. M.

Santa Fe, (N. M.) Aug. 27, 1861.

General Orders, No. 31.

The Colonel Commanding the Department has learned with great gratification that certain reports and statements with regard to the troops, included in the surrender of Santa Augustine.

Captain Reed, and has been the hero of several adventures in Western Virginia. He went out from Gen. Reynolds's camp as a spy, some six weeks ago, approached within sight of the enemy's camp, talked with the guards, and succeeded in gaining a good deal of important information. In returning to the camp of his friends, he lost his way in the woods, and was four days without anything to eat except what he was able to pick up and beg from those to whom it was safe to apply. He does not know the enemy by any other name than "the secesh," and he is of the opinion that they are a pretty hard set of the opinion that they are a pretty hard set of fellows. He is going home to Indianapolis to see his friends, but intends certainly to return again and see the matter out. He says he can stand as much fatigue and starvation as anybody, and thinks upon the whole that he rather likes sol-diering on his own hook.—Wheeling Intel., 5th.

> LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES. Passed at the First Session of the 37th Congress.

AN ACT for the relief of the widows and or-phans of the officers, seamen, and marines of the United States sloop-of-war Levant, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That for the purpose of fixing the time at which shall commence the pensions, under the existing laws, of the widows and orphan children of the officers, seamen, marines, and others in service, who were lost in the United States sloop-of-war Levant, as well as the time to which the pay of said officers, seamen, marines, and others in the service shall be allowed, the thirtieth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, shall be deemed and taken to be the day on which the said sloop-of-war Levant foundered at sea.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted. That the widow, or child, or children, and in case there shall be no widow, or child, or children (as aforesaid), then the parent or purents, and if there be the armies now on the line of the Potomac and its vicinity amount to the immense aggregate of near 200,000 men on each side, or 400,000 combatants. Whenever a general battle shall occur, it will not only have no parallel on the Western Continent in the forces engaged, but hardly one in the history even of modern Europe will vie with it. The great battles of Napoleon were generally fought with numbers far inferior to those now under the walls of Washington.

For instance, at Austerlitz, where Napoleon defeated the combined armies of Russia and Austria, he had but 80,000 troops; the allies had 100,000. At Jena and Auerstadt, where he broke the power of Prussia, his forces were not over 130,000 strong. At the great battle of Wagram, fought with the Austrians on the banks of the Danube, in 1809, he had but 160,000 men. At Borodino, under the walls of Moscow, he had but 120,000 to oppose the Russians. At Waterloo he did not have to exceed 80,000 troops.

The only battle-field we now recollect of, where the United States where 60,000 combatants took part in it on both sides.

From these figures we can judge of what a battle we have reason to expect when the bosts of McClellan and Beauregard, more than twice the number of those of Napoleon and Wellington at Waterloo, come into collision on the banks of the Potomac. It will be an event that will be the great military feature, probably for ages to come, of martial prowess in America.

Washington never had thirty thousand men in one army under his command; Jackson never had fifteen thousand men, and Scott never before the present year had seen twenty thousand troops under his orders. Great is the ability required to manguave and handle such a large body of men and bring them into action at the proper time and bring them into action at the proper time and sion was dispensed with.

A message was read from the Mayor, requesting the Council to indicate for whom he should cast the vote of the city as Directors in the Water Company and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, when Mr. Armstrong presented a resolution raising a joint session this evening at 8½ o'clock to elect two Directors in the Water Company and six Directors in the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, which was adopted.

The two Boards having assembled, Messrs. D.
S. Benedict and J. W. Kalfus were elected Directors in the Water Company, and Messrs. Jas.
Guthrie, H. D. Newcomb, Thos. Quigley, J. B.
Wilder, Dr. U. E. Ewing, and James Speed were elected Directors in the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company; when, on motion, the foint session arose.

MADAME ISABEL SNELL. DOCTRESS & ASTROLOGIST, Eighth st., second door from Grayson, VOULD respectfully inform the citizens of Lonis-ville that she is able to tell anything they have takeir mind, and can help people out of their trouble, matter what it is. She was born with a secret that ables her to surpass any one else in TELLING FOR-NNES. She can also find out through her secret all cumstances of sickness, and can tell what will cure, there are roots growing for every disease in the rid. as there are roots growing for every disease in the world.

Madame I. S. is the only one that can make DR. HUFLAND'S LIFE ESSENCE pure. This mixture is good for all diseases, and can only be bought in her office. No. 509 Eighth street, second door from Grayson. Every person that is depressed and troubled about War should call on her, as she is the only one that inherited the secret from la Norma, the great Fortune Teller that assisted Napeleon ef France in all his undertakings, and made him successful in all his battles. She wagers S. 1.4900 that no one can surpass her.

Please call and see her, and you will be relieved. Those who are too poor can come without money; and those who don't believe, call at 12 o'clock at night and she will make them believe.
